

BLOCKADE MAY BE ESTABLISHED

Washington Officials Say It Has Not Been Determined.

FINAL TOUCH OF DEFIANCE.

Advisers of Administration Counsel Patience While Constitutionalists Pursue Campaign—President and Cabinet Meets to Discuss Latest Phases of Situation.

POINTS OF IMPORTANCE IN MEXICAN SITUATION.

General Huerta has retired to the almost impregnable fortress of Chapultepec. He is reported to fear an outbreak against him in Mexico City.

General Aureliano Blanquet, minister of war, is reported implicated in a plot to arrest Huerta.

It is declared that there was a conspiracy in the cabinet to poison Huerta.

The German minister to Mexico declares that he has positive information that the United States will establish a blockade of Mexican ports in three days.

Washington officials deny that steps have been taken for the establishment of a blockade in a few days.

No orders to leave Mexico have been sent either to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires, or to John Lind.

Lord Cowdray, head of the Pearson syndicate, denies that his company has backed Huerta.

Washington, Nov. 19.—President Wilson and his cabinet met and discussed the latest phases of the Mexican situation. Developments apparently brought no change, but keen interest was shown in the organization of the new Mexican congress. Some officials were inclined to believe that body would heed the warning of the United States and take no action in concessions.

Talk of a blockade of Mexican ports was revived, but high officials said such a step had not been determined upon. Many moves are under consideration, but the foremost advisers of the administration are counseling patience while the Constitutionalists pursue their campaign.

The report that Carranza might not need to have the embargo on arms lifted to insure his success strengthened the conviction of many officials that such a step should be taken only in a remote contingency. Confidence prevailed that the United States might wait a few days for the full effect of the recent Constitutional victories and for the attitude of foreign governments to become more emphasized.

Final Touch of Defiance.

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—The completion of the preliminary organization of both branches of the new Mexican congress is regarded here as putting the final touch to President Huerta's defiance.

Surprise was caused here by the publication of dispatches from Washington indicating that President Wilson does not contemplate any active measures tending to support the notification reported to have been given by John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson, to General Huerta, warning him against permitting the new congress to convene.

Organization of Huerta's new congress was completed when enough senators were gathered to form a quorum in the upper house. General Francisco Princes was chosen temporary chairman of the senate, and a committee on credentials was appointed. A similar committee of the chamber of deputies began the work of revising the deputies' credentials. The formal opening of congress is scheduled for next Thursday.

General Huerta is reported to have gone to the castle of Chapultepec. This was taken as a move to insure his greater personal safety. Before he removed to Chapultepec he summoned the members of his staff and his personal friends and told them that if any disaster came he would be the only one to suffer.

American Missing at Jaurez.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 19.—What has been the fate of Joseph H. Francis, ex-elder of Chicago and one time president of the Automobile club of that city, was a question that Constitutional authorities in Jaurez were unable to answer.

Francis, who has been absent from Chicago since last May, was supposed to have gone to Jaurez from Terasas on the troop train that carried Villa's troops to attack that city early Saturday morning. That he did not reach El Paso seems certain. A telegraphic appeal from Francis' father in Chicago has caused General Villa to institute a search which would extend to opening the graves of foreigners.

Very Appropriate.

What three authors would you name when witnessing a house on fire? Dickens, Hewitt, Burns!

DESERVING OF SYMPATHY

Rev. B. A. Salter and Family Are Sorely Afflicted.

Rev. B. A. Salter, pastor of the West Side M. E. church, is entitled to the sympathy of the community. Mr. Salter's family were quarantined sometime ago and are now isolated because of his children being afflicted with diphtheria. The many friends of the family hope that no fatal results will attend the illness of the children.

The Pastors association expresses its sympathy for the Salter family in the following minute adopted at a meeting held Tuesday.

Moved.—"That as a Pastors association we learn with deep regret that Rev. B. A. Salter and family are quarantined a second time, on account of diphtheria in their children, and that we extend to them our sincere sympathy and bespeak for them the same sympathy of all Christian people."

COMPLEXION OF NEW BOROUGH COUNCIL

Members of That Body for the Next Two Years

The recent election changed the complexion of the borough council, which will be organized on the first Monday of January. Under the law governing the borough two new councilmen were elected at the November election from each ward. This year three councilmen hold over and a vacancy of a holdover councilman was filled by the election of a new member.

The complexion of the next councilmanic body will be as follows:

First Ward—Fred Kerr, holdover. New members—A. J. Hagerty and J. F. Pletcher.

Second ward—John Davis, holdover. New members—Thomas Beahan and Allen Wrigley.

Third ward—W. H. Witherow, elected for two years to fill vacancy caused by resignation of holdover member. New members—Ashley Thorn and Abe Tate.

Fourth ward—H. S. Buck, holdover. New members—M. M. Overly and David Heck.

When councils have reorganized in January the two newly elected members in each ward will draw lots to see which of them will serve for two years and which one four years, the idea being to have each of the four wards change its representatives every two years.

CONTRACTORS TO TELL OF BAGMEN

Whitman Establishes Office at the Capital.

IS NOT WORRIED BY FOWLER

District Attorney Going Ahead With Investigation—Sends Aid to Get in Touch With Men Forced to Pay Graft—Friends Say He Has Information For More Indictments.

New York, Nov. 19.—District Attorney Whitman did not appear to be much worried at the determination of Everett Fowler, one of the Democratic state committee's "bagmen," who, after many conferences with his friends, has decided to stand pat and force the extortion charge to a trial. Word came from those close to the prosecutor that he has collected enough information, backed by the most convincing documentary proof, to make it unnecessary for him to offer immunity to those who might "come across."

Fowler's trial will be rushed, and it is expected that the grand jury will be heard from again. Information from all parts of the state which has come to Mr. Whitman is of such a comprehensive nature that it is believed by those who have followed closely the developments of highway charges that the half dozen "bagmen" garnered between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 within the past two or three years. Practically every contractor who had a state contract of any size learned in some underground fashion that things wouldn't go right unless he made a donation to the political organization.

Chairman Selects Contractors.

Mr. Whitman has been told by a reliable witness that often contractors were selected by county chairmen without regard to the figure of their bids. These contractors would receive word to meet one of the "bagmen" at the Hampton hotel, Albany, and every contractor who wanted to complete his work and have it passed by the inspectors kept the Albany appointment and paid the "collector."

The new information is regarded as so important that Mr. Whitman has established an up state headquarters, in charge of his assistant, John Kirkland Clarke, who has subpoenas to serve on contractors, probably 300 in number.

FIRST BOAT THROUGH CANAL

Small Steamer Went From Pacific to Atlantic Side.

Panama, Nov. 19.—With many prominent canal officials and their wives on board, the small steamer Louise passed entirely across the isthmus of Panama through the Panama canal, the first boat to make the journey.

The trip was made possible by the cutting of a canal through the Cucuracha slide, the last obstruction which has delayed the work on connecting the oceans. Dredges have been at work on the barrier for days and have made a passage through the slide which is now forty-five feet deep. The dredges will complete the work of widening the channel at this point, and in case of necessity a large ship could be sent from ocean to ocean on very short notice.

TWO IMPORTANT CASES

Down for Trial at the December Term of Court.

The two most important cases down for trial at the December term of court are those of W. C. Lukens vs. Dr. J. S. Waterworth, trespass, and Mrs. Anna Keeler vs. the county of Clearfield.

Mr. Lukens sued Dr. Waterworth some months ago, alleging that the physician had not properly treated Mrs. Lukens for the ailment from which she suffered.

Mrs. Keeler was the wife of John O. Keeler, the condemned murderer now awaiting execution in the county jail. Mrs. Keeler has sued for the reward that was offered for the apprehension of her husband.

AN ESTIMABLE WOMAN PASSES TO REWARD

Mrs. V. McMasters Dies of Brights Disease Last Night

Mrs. McMasters, wife of V. McMasters, died last evening at 9 o'clock at her home on Park avenue, of Brights disease, aged 47 years.

Mrs. McMasters had been ill for some time and there was little hope of recovery from the disease which ended her life. She is survived by her husband and one brother, D. D. Guppy, of Clearfield. The body will be taken to Lumber City for burial, the arrangements for the funeral not yet being made.

Mrs. McMasters was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Guppy, of Lumber City. She was a most estimable woman and her death brings sorrow to her many friends. Her husband has the sympathy of the community in his irreparable loss.

RATE INQUIRY GOES TO BOTTOM

Seek All Underlying Facts About Anthracite Industry.

MINOR OFFICIALS TESTIFY.

Hearings Now Going on in Philadelphia Before Interstate Commissioner Will Be of Far-reaching Effect—Nature of Complaints—What the Railroads Chiefly Contest.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—With the painstaking and detailed examination of witnesses as assurances of the fact that the interstate commerce commission's investigation of the anthracite coal industry would be as slow and thoroughgoing as might be expected from the tremendous scope and far-reaching effect of the present inquiry, the hearings were resumed before John H. Murble, interstate commerce commissioner. Proceeding with the same deliberation and exhaustiveness which J. H. Hickey, conducting the examination of witnesses for the commission, says will mark the whole inquiry, minor operating officials, who were on hand in answer to subpoenas, were closely questioned along the lines followed at the first session. Subpoenas were returned by various employees in the operating departments of the Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Erie railroads. A continuance of the examination of subordinate officials of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad opened the second session.

In the first hearing what little special emphasis was laid on testimony given over bodily to descriptions of the Jersey Central's coal handling facilities was connected with an attempt on the part of the commission's counsel to bring out the relations between that road and Burns Bros., the big New York city coal retailers. It was drawn from several witnesses, minor officials of the road, including Arthur S. Jeffery, yardmaster at Jersey City; Charles H. Stein, engineer of maintenance of way, and Harry W. Douthy, land and tax agent, that Burns Bros. enjoyed special arrangements for the handling of coal at terminals and were large leaseholders of terminal lands from the Jersey Central.

The last witness, Lawrence Barrett, shipping freight agent at Port Reading for the Philadelphia and Reading, which owns the twenty miles of coal road terminating there, answered questions in regard to the piers at that point and the facilities for handling anthracite coal. He said that 225 cars of anthracite were normally docked there in a day.

PROF. H. CLARK THAYER.

He is Putting Clearfield on the Musical Map.

When Prof. H. Clark Thayer, Conductor for the Clearfield Choral Society first presented "A Tale of Old Japan" to the Society as a suggestion for the season's production, and the Committee examined the score, many felt that the work exceeded in character the ability of the local talent to faithfully interpret it.

Prof. Thayer insisted that the Clearfield Choral society had heretofore in every instance acquitted itself with credit and that while this cantata was unusual and difficult that it was worth the effort and that he had faith the local society could render it perfectly. In his enthusiasm he said: "Sing 'A Tale of Old Japan' and we will put Clearfield on the musical map of America." His judgment has been verified.

Through the long weeks of hard work, painstaking study and faithful application on the part of the seventy-five members of the society the idea of the great composer has been caught and the work is perfected. Clearfield has never before been offered such a musical treat, as that which will be given on Tuesday evening, November 25.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY

A Representative Has Been at Work in Clearfield County.

The work of the Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania has been reported by White, of Pittsburgh. The society has been doing an efficient work throughout the state during nineteen years past. It is incorporated and works under a state charter. Its distinctive work is securing children for adoption in private homes. It does little relief or temporary work. Rev. Mr. White, during two Sundays past in Clearfield, has addressed many church services. The appeal of the society is particularly to childless people and it has placed 1400 children in such homes.

Mr. White speaks highly of work being done by our own local society. The officers of the Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania include the following from Clearfield and adjoining counties:

President—Dr. Thomas S. Wilson. Honorary—John DuBois, of DuBois; Hon. Josiah Howard, Emporium; Rev. Russell Conwell, D. D., Philadelphia. Members of board of directors—Rev. S. B. Evans, Tyrone; Rev. J. Bell Naff, DuBois. Field secretary—Rev. Benjamin Porter White, Ph. D., Pittsburgh.

HIS SWEET DREAMS WERE NOT REALIZED

One Honey Hunter Meets Great Disappointment

A number of bee trees have been cut down and their store of wild honey removed in the woods of this county this year. In some instances tubs full of rich honey have been procured by the lucky bee tree finders, but in some cases the men had their labor for naught. It is estimated that about a half ton of wild honey has been taken from trees in this county this year.

Down or up, just as you please, in the Trout run region one man discovered a bee tree and marked it as his own. It was an immense tree and the finder anticipated getting at least one hundred pounds of honey from the store the bees had gathered during the summer months. When the proper time arrived the man proceeded to cut down the tree, which, by the way, was a rock oak almost two feet in diameter. That fellow must have worked several hours very hard to bring that tree to the ground, but visions of immense deposits of honey spurred him on.

At last the tree was down and the tired chopper began to investigate its interior. What he said when, after searching the bole and branches of the tree, he saw not a vestige of honey the surrounding forest alone known, but his disappointment can be imagined. When the story leaked out there was some laughter at the expense of the wild honey hunter, the loudest laughter being Clerk Bainton, of the prothonotary's office, who himself had anticipated taking a load of honey from the tree only to find when he visited the spot that somebody else had cut it down and found no sweets.

"Hiawatha" Pictures Please.

"Hiawatha," the attraction at the New opera house last night, was an exceptionally fine play, and was well received by the large audience present. This story, as told in pictures, makes a film difficult to produce, and is entirely pleasing in effect. The play is given by full-blooded Indians. The production has the hearty endorsement of educators everywhere. Many young people were in attendance last night.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1913

Good evening! Well, even if it does rain tonight, think of the fine
days we have had this fall.

ECONOMY.

A saving of over thirteen hundred dollars in one paving job is something which is not to be regarded as trivial. This is what the borough saved by repaving Bigler avenue itself, as stated in the Progress Tuesday. The borough council, not satisfied with the amount called for in the bids of contractors for doing this
work, decided to do the work itself,
with the above result.

By taking this matter into its own hands the borough council has demonstrated that there is economy in municipal paving. If more than thirteen hundred dollars can be saved on
a strip of paving about eleven hundred feet in length what could be saved if the borough were to take over all the paving that will have to be done in this borough in the future?

There is no reflection upon the honesty of the contractors in this lesson of comparatively cheap paving.
Contractors are not in the business for fun; and they are entitled to a fair profit on such work
as they do for the borough. But this fact does not preclude the possibility of the borough saving many thousands of dollars annually in paving its streets, and in future council will please the taxpayers if it shall perform all paving work itself.

REACHED THE LIMIT.

In an English court, when a judge proceeded to sentence several anarchistic women for having set fire to a public building, broken into a church or some other heinous crime,
one woman in the audience denounced the jurist and threw a ripe tomato at his head. With her proverbial lack of ability as a thrower the woman failed to hit the judge. Incidentally another woman threw a hammer at the magistrate, barely missing his head.

For this contempt of court and attempt to lessen the number of judges
in England the woman was sentenced to jail for one month. What became of the tomato is not reported in the cable dispatch describing the episode. Doubtless the judge is congratulating himself over the fact that the tomato did not hit him, but he may hereafter wear a baseball catcher's mask when trying the viragoes who go under the name of suffragettes and who are doing so much to bring disgrace to the women of England.

BEGGING FOR HELP.

The Republican organs throughout the state are pleading with the Progressives to come to their aid in the next gubernatorial campaign. In the eyes of these organs the Progressives who carried Pennsylvania
last year are erring children who,
seeing their mistake, are willing to return to the ranks of the Penrose machine if enough sweetmeats are handed out to them.

Indications point to the nomination
by the Democrats of one of the old-time political bosses, while Penrose is likely to select as his candidate a henchman who will do his bidding without asking questions.
This ought to give Progressives an opportunity to pare in the gubernatorial chair a man of the people, a man who wears no man's collar and a man who will give attention to the welfare of the state and not be subservient to the bosses.

The Progressives, under the name

of Washington, carried the state last year, and if they stand together next year they can repeat the trick. With so many Republicans disgusted with Penroseism the ranks of the Progressives
should and will be greatly strengthened next year, and the defeat of Penrose for reelection and the machine candidate for governor can be readily accomplished. That is why the Penrose organs are so coliculous to have the Progressives
return to the Penrose party.

Huerta is the Penrose of Mexico.

In the meantime, many persons are fighting to hear Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, just as they struggle to see a dog fight or in reaching a bargain counter.

To the efficiency and good judgement of Street Commissioner Graham
in the Bigler avenue repaving matter much credit is due. Commissioner Graham transacts the business of his department in a most commendable
manner.

PRESIDENT BROWN LEAVES N. Y. CENTRAL

Alfred H. Smith, Senior Vice President, May Be Successor.

New York, Nov. 19.—William C.
Brown, head of the New York Central lines and connected with railroading in one capacity or another for more than forty-four years, has asked the directors to let him retire from the presidency. His resignation, it is understood, will be accepted and Alfred H.
Smith, who has been senior vice president of the lines since March 1, will
be elected in his place.

The reason given for Mr. Brown's retirement is that he is worn out and needs a rest. For years he has had the main burden of conducting the road successfully through a period of gigantic reconstruction and consolidation. There is a tremendous amount yet to be done of the things called for
in the New York Central program.
Times are particularly adverse now to extensive financing, but it is impossible for the lines to halt the improvements that have been started—some of them nearly completed.

The senate has ordered an inquiry into the road's consolidation plan and
the interstate commerce commission on Sept. 9 began its investigation. The year 1914 and those immediately succeeding it promise to bring an unusual amount of work upon railroad heads.
Mr. Brown has made his reputation as his sponsor, the late E. H. Harriman, predicted he would. Its monument is the reconstructed New York Central
road and the Grand Central terminal.
And now Mr. Brown wants a rest.

Change of Heart.

it was out of place for your father to say grace? Freddie—Because it was only a few minutes afterward that he

Many Scalp Hunters in Clearfield

A flood of probates are being received at the commissioners' office,

noxious animals (foxes and owl) un-

number of these certificates call for payments on goshawks, which, the

rare intervals governed by climatic conditions. Dr. Kabisus, secretary of the state game commission, has warned all officials as to the payment of bounty on birds, as he fears that many insectivorous birds will be destroyed in the hunter's greed for game and the reward offered by the state for scalps.

The Wrestler's Pride.

In olden times a wrestler who had won a belt used to go to his village church on the following Sunday wearing the belt. On the Sunday following that he went to some neighboring church in his belt and claimed precedence over the other young fellows.
Nearly all the champions were men great in girth and weight. Old Steadman, accounted by many the most powerful wrestler ever known, was twenty stone weight. — Manchester Guardian.

Beast by Awful Dangers.

Our friend Tom recently married.
His bride, being from the Pacific coast, where thunderstorms are rare and gentle, became terrified when a genuine eastern rip-roarer broke loose, and she sought safety in a closet. Presently came a scream from the closet.
"What's the matter?" inquired her husband.
"Oh, Tom," she answered, half crying, half laughing, "I'm afraid to come out because of the lightning, and I'm afraid to stay in here because there's a mouse." — Exchange.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Leading Issues Make Advance Following London's Lead.

New York, Nov. 18.—Trading again followed the London lead in the initial trading the gains made in that market in Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific being closely followed here at the opening. Union Pacific advanced seven-eighths point to 15 1/8, while Canadian Pacific rose three-fourths point to 25 3/4. The solid out condition of the market which had been continuously referred to in the past few days was more evident when some covering of shorts was attempted. New Haven gained 1/4 point to 17, and Reading rose five eighths point to 100 1/8. Steel common and Amalgamated Copper also showed advances of one-eighth point. Texas Co. moved up two points to 112. Speculative interest was absent as a market influence through the forenoon and the only price movements worth noting were the caused by arbitrage buying and some clearing by room traders. This buying was supplied before the end of the first fifteen minutes and from then on business was practically at a standstill. The most important factor was that stocks were not offered by outside holders here at the higher prices established and this was taken as evidence of confidence in the situation, which however was not pronounced enough to induce outside buying. Union Pacific ranged one point above yesterday's closing on purchases of about 1,500 shares for arbitrage account. The advance in Canadian Pacific also was due to London buying. Several low priced specialties reflected pool efforts to awaken speculative interest and a few of the issues made moderate gains. Government was unchanged and other bonds firm.

Washington Officials Say It Has Not Been Determined.

FINAL TOUCH OF DEFIANCE.

Advisers of Administration Counsel Patience While Constitutionalists Pursue Campaign—President and Cabinet Meets to Discuss Latest Phases of Situation.

POINTS OF IMPORTANCE IN MEXICAN SITUATION.

General Huerta has retired to the almost impregnable fortress of Chapultepec. He is reported to fear an outbreak against him in Mexico City.

General Aureliano Blanquet, minister of war, is reported implicated in a plot to arrest Huerta.

It is declared that there was a conspiracy in the cabinet to poison Huerta.

The German minister to Mexico declares that he has positive information that the United States will establish a blockade of Mexican ports in three days.

Washington officials deny that steps have been taken for the establishment of a blockade in a few days.

No orders to leave Mexico have been sent either to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires, or to John Lind.

Lord Cowdray, head of the Pearson syndicate, denies that his company has backed Huerta.

Washington, Nov. 19.—President Wilson and his cabinet met and discussed the latest phases of the Mexican situation. Developments apparently brought no change, but keen interest was shown in the organization of the new Mexican congress. Some officials were inclined to believe that body would heed the warning of the United States and take no action in concessions.

Talk of a blockade of Mexican ports was revived, but high officials said such a step had not been determined upon. Many moves are under consideration, but the foremost advisers of the administration are counseling patience while the Constitutionalists pursue their campaign.

The report that Carranza might not need to have the embargo on arms lifted to insure his success strengthened the conviction of many officials that such a step should be taken only in a remote contingency. Confidence prevailed that the United States might wait a few days for the full effect of the recent Constitutional victories and for the attitude of foreign governments to become more emphasized.

Final Touch of Defiance.

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—The completion of the preliminary organization of both branches of the new Mexican congress is regarded here as putting the final touch to President Huerta's defiance.

Surprise was caused here by the publication of dispatches from Washington indicating that President Wilson does not contemplate any active measures tending to support the notification reported to have been given by John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson, to General Huerta, warning him against permitting the new congress to convene.

Organization of Huerta's new congress was completed when enough senators were gathered to form a quorum in the upper house. General Francisco Princes was chosen temporary chairman of the senate, and a committee on credentials was appointed. A similar committee of the chamber of deputies began the work of revising the deputies' credentials. The formal opening of congress is scheduled for next Thursday.

General Huerta is reported to have gone to the castle of Chapultepec. This was taken as a move to insure his greater personal safety. Before he removed to Chapultepec he summoned the members of his staff and his personal friends and told them that if any disaster came he would be the only one to suffer.

American Missing at Jaurez.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 19.—What has been the fate of Joseph H. Francis, ex-soldier of Chicago and one time president of the Automobile club of that city, was a question that Constitutional authorities in Jaurez were unable to answer.

Francis, who has been absent from Chicago since last May, was supposed to have gone to Jaurez from Terasas on the troop train that carried Villa's troops to attack that city early Saturday morning. That he did not reach El Paso seems certain. A telegraphic appeal from Francis' father in Chicago has caused General Villa to institute a search which would extend to opening the graves of foreigners.

Rev. B. A. Salter and Family Are Sorely Afflicted.

Rev. B. A. Salter, pastor of the West Side M. E. church, is entitled to the sympathy of the community. Mr. Salter's family were quarantined sometime ago and are now isolated because of his children being afflicted with diphtheria. The many friends of the family hope that no fatal results will attend the illness of the children.

The Pastors association expresses its sympathy for the Salter family in the following minute adopted at a meeting held Tuesday.

Moved.—"That as a Pastors association we learn with deep regret that Rev. B. A. Salter and family are quarantined a second time, on account of diphtheria in their children, and that we extend to them our sincere sympathy and bespeak for them the same sympathy of all Christian people."

Members of That Body for the Next Two Years

The recent election changed the complexion of the borough council, which will be organized on the first Monday of January. Under the law governing the borough two new councilmen were elected at the November election from each ward. This year three councilmen hold over and a vacancy of a holdover councilman was filled by the election of a new member.

The complexion of the next councilmanic body will be as follows:

First Ward—Fred Kerr, holdover. New members—A. J. Hagerty and J. F. Pletcher.

Second ward—John Davis, holdover. New members—Thomas Beahan and Allen Wrigley.

Third ward—W. H. Witherow, elected for two years to fill vacancy caused by resignation of holdover member. New members—Ashley Thorn and Abe Tate.

Fourth ward—H. S. Buck, holdover. New members—M. M. Overly and David Heck.

When councils have reorganized in January the two newly elected members in each ward will draw lots to see which of them will serve for two years and which one four years, the idea being to have each of the four wards change its representatives every two years.

Whitman Establishes Office at the Capital.

IS NOT WORRIED BY FOWLER

District Attorney Going Ahead With Investigation—Sends Aid to Get in Touch With Men Forced to Pay Graft—Friends Say He Has Information For More Indictments.

New York, Nov. 19.—District Attorney Whitman did not appear to be much worried at the determination of Everett Fowler, one of the Democratic state committee's "bagmen," who, after many conferences with his friends, has decided to stand pat and force the extortion charge to a trial. Word came from those close to the prosecutor that he has collected enough information, backed by the most convincing documentary proof, to make it unnecessary for him to offer immunity to those who might "come across."

Fowler's trial will be rushed, and it is expected that the grand jury will be heard from again. Information from all parts of the state which has come to Mr. Whitman is of such a comprehensive nature that it is believed by those who have followed closely the developments of highway charges that the half dozen "bagmen" garnered between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 within the past two or three years. Practically every contractor who had a state contract of any size learned in some underground fashion that things wouldn't go right unless he made a donation to the political organization.

Chairman Selects Contractors.

Mr. Whitman has been told by a reliable witness that often contractors were selected by county chairmen without regard to the figure of their bids. These contractors would receive word to meet one of the "bagmen" at the Hampton hotel, Albany, and every contractor who wanted to complete his work and have it passed by the inspectors kept the Albany appointment and paid the "collector."

The new information is regarded as so important that Mr. Whitman has established an up state headquarters, in charge of his assistant, John Kirkland Clarke, who has subpoenas to serve on contractors, probably 300 in number.

Small Steamer Went From Pacific to Atlantic Side.

Panama, Nov. 19.—With many prominent canal officials and their wives on board, the small steamer Louise passed entirely across the isthmus of Panama through the Panama canal, the first boat to make the journey.

The trip was made possible by the cutting of a canal through the Cucuracha slide, the last obstruction which has delayed the work on connecting the oceans. Dredges have been at work on the barrier for days and have made a passage through the slide which is now forty-five feet deep. The dredges will complete the work of widening the channel at this point, and in case of necessity a large ship could be sent from ocean to ocean on very short notice.

Down for Trial at the December Term of Court.

The two most important cases down for trial at the December term of court are those of W. C. Lukens vs. Dr. J. S. Waterworth, trespass, and Mrs. Anna Keeler vs. the county of Clearfield.

Mr. Lukens sued Dr. Waterworth some months ago, alleging that the physician had not properly treated Mrs. Lukens for the ailment from which she suffered.

Mrs. Keeler was the wife of John O. Keeler, the condemned murderer now awaiting execution in the county jail. Mrs. Keeler has sued for the reward that was offered for the apprehension of her husband.

Mrs. V. McMasters Dies of Brights Disease Last Night

Mrs. McMasters, wife of V. McMasters, died last evening at 9 o'clock at her home on Park avenue, of Brights disease, aged 47 years.

Mrs. McMasters had been ill for some time and there was little hope of recovery from the disease which ended her life. She is survived by her husband and one brother, D. D. Guppy, of Clearfield. The body will be taken to Lumber City for burial, the arrangements for the funeral not yet being made.

Mrs. McMasters was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Guppy, of Lumber City. She was a most estimable woman and her death brings sorrow to her many friends. Her husband has the sympathy of the community in his irreparable loss.

Increased Revenue.

PROF. H. CLARK THAYER.

He is Putting Clearfield on the Musical Map.

When Prof. H. Clark Thayer, Conductor for the Clearfield Choral Society first presented "A Tale of Old Japan" to the Society as a suggestion for the season's production, and the Committee examined the score, many felt that the work exceeded in character the ability of the local talent to faithfully interpret it.

Prof. Thayer insisted that the Clearfield Choral society had heretofore in every instance acquitted itself with credit and that while this cantata was unusual and difficult that it

RATE INQUIRY GOES TO BOTTOM

Seek All Underlying Facts About Anthracite Industry.

MINOR OFFICIALS TESTIFY.

Hearings Now Going on in Philadelphia Before Interstate Commissioner Will Be of Far-reaching Effect—Nature of Complaints—What the Railroads Chiefly Contest.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—With the painstaking and detailed examination of witnesses as assurances of the fact that the interstate commerce commission's investigation of the anthracite coal industry would be as slow and thoroughgoing as might be expected from the tremendous scope and far-reaching effect of the present inquiry, the hearings were resumed before John H. Marble, interstate commerce commissioner. Proceeding with the same deliberation and exhaustiveness which J. H. Hickey, conducting the examination of witnesses for the commission, says will mark the whole inquiry, minor operating officials, who were on hand in answer to subpoenas, were closely questioned along the lines followed at the first session. Subpoenas were returned by various employees in the operating departments of the Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Erie railroads. A continuance of the examination of subordinate officials of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad opened the second session.

In the first hearing what little special emphasis was laid on testimony given over bodily to descriptions of the Jersey Central's coal handling facilities was connected with an attempt on the part of the commission's counsel to bring out the relations between that road and Burns Bros., the big New York city coal retailers. It was drawn from several witnesses, minor officials of the road, including Arthur S. Jeffery, yardmaster at Jersey City; Charles H. Stein, engineer of maintenance of way, and Harry W. Douthy, land and tax agent, that Burns Bros. enjoyed special arrangements for the handling of coal at terminals and were large leaseholders of terminal lands from the Jersey Central.

The last witness, Lawrence Barrett, shipping freight agent at Port Reading for the Philadelphia and Reading, which owns the twenty miles of coal road terminating there, answered questions in regard to the piers at that point and the facilities for handling anthracite coal. He said that 225 cars of anthracite were normally docked there in a day.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY

A Representative Has Been at Work in Clearfield County.

The work of the Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania has been reported by White, of Pittsburgh. The society has been doing an efficient work throughout the state during nineteen years past. It is incorporated and works under a state charter. Its distinctive work is securing children for adoption in private homes. It does little relief or temporary work. Rev. Mr. White, during two Sundays past in Clearfield, has addressed many church services. The appeal of the society is particularly to childless people and it has placed 1400 children in such homes.

Mr. White speaks highly of work being done by our own local society. The officers of the Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania include the following from Clearfield and adjoining counties:

President—Dr. Thomas S. Wilson. Honorary—John DuBois, of DuBois; Hon. Josiah Howard, Emporium; Rev. Russell Conwell, D. D., Philadelphia. Members of board of directors—Rev. S. B. Evans, Tyrone; Rev. J. Bell Naff, DuBois. Field secretary—Rev. Benjamin Porter White, Ph. D., Pittsburgh.

Pallagia Must Hang.

Governor Tener has refused to interfere with the execution of Louis Pallagia, the Italian who murdered George F. Curfman, at Arcadia, Indiana county, and he will be hanged next Tuesday.

One Honey Hunter Meets Great Disappointment

A number of bee trees have been cut down and their store of wild honey removed in the woods of this county this year. In some instances tubs full of rich honey have been procured by the lucky bee tree finders, but in some cases the men had their labor for naught. It is estimated that about a half ton of wild honey has been taken from trees in this county this year.

Down or up, just as you please, in the Trout run region one man discovered a bee tree and marked it as his own. It was an immense tree and the finder anticipated getting at least one hundred pounds of honey from the store the bees had gathered during the summer months. When the proper time arrived the man proceeded to cut down the tree, which, by the way, was a rock oak almost two feet in diameter. That fellow must have worked several hours very hard to bring that tree to the ground, but visions of immense deposits of honey spurred him on.

At last the tree was down and the tired chopper began to investigate its interior. What he said when, after searching the bole and branches of the tree, he saw not a vestige of honey the surrounding forest alone known, but his disappointment can be imagined. When the story leaked out there was some laughter at the expense of the wild honey hunter, the loudest laughter being Clerk Bainton, of the prothonotary's office, who himself had anticipated taking a load of honey from the tree only to find when he visited the spot that somebody else had cut it down and found no sweets.

"Hiawatha" Pictures Please.

"Hiawatha," the attraction at the New opera house last night, was an exceptionally fine play, and was well received by the large audience present. This story, as told in pictures, makes a film difficult to produce, and is entirely pleasing in effect. The play is given by full-blooded Indians. The production has the hearty endorsement of educators everywhere. Many young people were in attendance last night.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1913

Good evening! Well, even if it
does rain tonight, think of the fine
days we have had this fall.

ECONOMY.

A saving of over thirteen hundred
dollars in one paving job is something which is not to be regarded as trivial. This is what the borough
saved by repaving Bigler avenue itself, as stated in the Progress Tues-
day. The borough council, not satisfied with the amount called for in
the bids of contractors for doing this
work, decided to do the work itself,
with the above result.

By taking this matter into its own
hands the borough council has demonstrated that there is economy in
municipal paving. If more than thirteen hundred dollars can be saved on
a strip of paving about eleven
hundred feet in length what could be
saved if the borough were to take
over all the paving that will have
to be done in this borough in the future?

There is no reflection upon the
honesty of the contractors in this
lesson of comparatively cheap paving.
Contractors are not in the
business for fun; and they are entitled to a fair profit on such work
as they do for the borough. But
this fact does not preclude the possibility of the borough saving many
thousands of dollars annually in paving its streets, and in future council
will please the taxpayers if it shall
perform all paving work itself.

In an English court, when a
judge proceeded to sentence several
anarchistic women for having set fire
to a public building, broken into a
church or some other heinous crime,
one woman in the audience denounced the jurist and threw a ripe tomato at his head. With
her proverbial lack of ability as a thrower the woman failed to hit the
judge. Incidentally another woman
threw a hammer at the magistrate,
barely missing his head.

For this contempt of court and attempt to lessen the number of judges
in England the woman was sentenced
to jail for one month. What became of the tomato is not reported in
the cable dispatch describing the
episode. Doubtless the judge is congratulating himself over the fact
that the tomato did not hit him, but
he may hereafter wear a baseball
catcher's mask when trying the viragoes who go under the name of
suffragettes and who are doing so much to bring disgrace to the women
of England.

BEGGING FOR HELP.

The Republican organs throughout
the state are pleading with the Progressives to come to their aid in the next gubernatorial campaign. In the eyes of these organs the Progressives who carried Pennsylvania
last year are erring children who,
seeing their mistake, are willing to return to the ranks of the Penrose
machine if enough sweetmeats are
handed out to them.

Indications point to the nomination
by the Democrats of one of the
old-time political bosses, while Pen-
rose is likely to select as his candidate a henchman who will do his
bidding without asking questions.
This ought to give Progressives an opportunity to pare in the gubernatorial
chair a man of the people, a
man who wears no man's collar and a man who will give attention to the welfare of the state and not be subservient to the bosses.

The Progressives, under the name

of Washington, carried the state last
year, and if they stand together next
year they can repeat the trick. With
so many Republicans disgusted with Penroseism the ranks of the Progressives
should and will be greatly
strengthened next year, and the defeat of Penrose for reelection and the machine candidate for governor
can be readily accomplished. That is why the Penrose organs are so
coliculous to have the Progressives
return to the Penrose party.

Huerta is the Penrose of Mexico.

In the meantime, many persons are fighting to hear Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, just as they struggle to see a dog fight or in reaching a bargain counter.

To the efficiency and good judgement of Street Commissioner Graham
in the Bigler avenue repaving matter
much credit is due. Commissioner Graham transacts the business of his
department in a most commendable
manner.

ous towns in Central Pennsylvania.

PRESIDENT BROWN LEAVES N. Y. CENTRAL

Alfred H. Smith, Senior Vice President, May Be Successor.

New York, Nov. 19.—William C.
Brown, head of the New York Central
lines and connected with railroading in
one capacity or another for more than
forty-four years, has asked the directors to let him retire from the presidency. His resignation, it is understood, will be accepted and Alfred H.
Smith, who has been senior vice president of the lines since March 1, will
be elected in his place.

The reason given for Mr. Brown's retirement is that he is worn out and
needs a rest. For years he has had
the main burden of conducting the
road successfully through a period of gigantic reconstruction and consolidation. There is a tremendous amount
yet to be done of the things called for
in the New York Central program.
Times are particularly adverse now to
extensive financing, but it is impossible for the lines to halt the improvements that have been started—some of
them nearly completed.

The senate has ordered an inquiry into the road's consolidation plan and
the interstate commerce commission on Sept. 9 began its investigation. The year 1914 and those immediately succeeding it promise to bring an unusual
amount of work upon railroad heads.
Mr. Brown has made his reputation as
his sponsor, the late E. H. Harriman, predicted he would. Its monument is
the reconstructed New York Central
road and the Grand Central terminal.
And now Mr. Brown wants a rest.

Change of Heart.

Parson Primrose—Why do you think it was out of place for your father to say grace? Freddie—Because it was only a few minutes afterward that he was swearing over having to carve.—

Many Scalp Hunters in Clearfield County.

A flood of probates are being received at the commissioners' office, calling for payment of bounty on noxious animals (foxes and owl) under the new act of assembly. A number of these certificates call for
payments on goshawks, which, the naturalists claim, are not inhabitants of Pennsylvania except at rare intervals governed by climatic conditions. Dr. Kabisus, secretary
of the state game commission, has
warned all officials as to the payment of bounty on birds, as he fears
that many insectivorous birds will be
destroyed in the hunter's greed for
game and the reward offered by the
state for scalps.

In olden times a wrestler who had
